WELCOMING A NEW TEAM MEMBER

JACK SMILES

THE DAIRY TEAM WELCOMES OUR NEW DAIRY SERVICE OPERATIONS MANAGER, JACK SMILES.

We are excited to welcome Jack back into the business as our new Dairy Service Operations Manager.

Jack started his journey as a dairy apprentice back in 2010. Since then, he has built an impressive track record, including key roles at BouMatic and T H WHITE. His career has taken him across Europe and South America, giving him a unique global perspective on diverse farming practices, while his extensive work supporting dealership growth has made him a true industry expert.

For Jack, this new role is the perfect opportunity to step up his career with a team and product line he already knows and loves. He is delighted to be back working with our equipment and immersing himself in our strong team ethos once again.

We wish him every success in his new role.

"I use Blockade teat dip because I understand the impact mastitis can have on both cow health and farm profitability. It gives me confidence that the teat ends are protected between milkings, helping to defend against bacterial infection. While I can't control rising input costs, I can choose products that support herd health, help maintain milk quality bonuses, and reduce replacement costs."

TITAN™

DeLaval's first sprayable barrier with long-lasting barrier protection and excellent sprayability.

A lactic-acid based sprayable barrier, one of the first of its kind designed for use in automatic spraying systems.

This spray combines excellent hit rates and teat coverage with long-lasting protection.

BLOCKADE™

This ready-to-use, film-forming iodine teat dip makes use of I-tech (Free Iodine Technology) and ACT (Advanced Conditioning Technology).

It optimally disinfects the teats and smooths the skin. It creates a fine elastic barrier that helps protect against environmental bacteria.

ESSENTIAL OVERWINTER HOOFCARE

Good hoof health is vital to dairy herd performance, with around 88% of lameness cases linked to the feet and 86% affecting the hind feet. Regular hoof care helps prevent conditions such as digital dermatitis, foot rot and sole ulcers, reducing stress, maintaining milk yields and supporting fertility, as cows with good mobility show stronger heat signs and better conception rates.

HOOFCOUNT FOOTBATH

Hoofcount products are custom-built using marine-grade stainless steel. Designed with simplicity in mind and engineered to a high standard, Hoofcount ensures your cows gain maximum benefit while helping prevent cattle lameness.

Every Hoofcount footbath shares the same underlying hardware platform that features:

Spray Wave Washout

A high-efficiency, moving spray bar system that aggressively flushes out excess muck and organic debris from top to bottom during a cycle.

Rapid Reset

The system uses a full-width opening door and distinct valves to completely drop waste, wash, and refill with a fresh, precise chemical mix in under 3 minutes

Dual Chemical Control

Every standard control box features two chemical pumps, allowing users to alternate between daily chemical configurations. Cycles can be triggered manually, via a timer,

"A hoof count should be a compulsory item on every dairy farm and it is not an exaggeration to say that hoof count has probably done more for animal welfare on dairy farms than almost anything else in the last 10 years".
