Tri-Fender™ is an iodine-based teat dip that helps protect dairy cows against mastitis-causing bacteria while keeping teat skin soft and healthy. It provides fast-acting disinfection and is suitable for both conventional and robotic milking systems.

“We’ve been very pleased with Tri-Fender at Hartpury Farm. Applied automatically by our robotic milking system at every milking, it provides consistent teat disinfection without extra manual work.

Since using Tri-Fender, we’ve maintained good milk quality and udder health, with low cell counts and Bactoscan levels. Overall, it has been a valuable part of our herd health and milk hygiene programme.”
